BAE unveils system to integrate manned and unmanned platforms

SEPTEMBER 9TH, 2009 | DSEI 2009 | POSTED BY ANTONIE BOESSENKOOL

LONDON - BAE Systems said Wednesday at the DSEI show they have developed a mission control system to allow commanders to integrate unmanned platforms into missions effectively without interfering with the operations of manned platforms.

The system will allow commanders to plan and later revise missions that include air- and land-based unmanned platforms in real time as the situation develops.

BAE funded the development of the system internally and has carried out real-world and synthetic trials
